

L'enfer (english version)

lyrics&music ChrisAubois

English version FrancisCatley

Hold me close to you need to know you are really there
I look around and see
Cries, tears and anger appearing everywhere
So
So reassure me
Tell me those special things we loved to hear
The ones we knew so well
But suddenly I'm afraid I've missed my chance

How many secrets are you keeping from me?
What kinda temptation could you not turn away?
Whose embrace have you imagined?
I examine our lives and then

And then nothing more
No unknown hair on your shoulder now
Or fragrance unexplained
In our romantic film
I've made you the bad guy

Many lovers I have seen who allowed us to believe They've avoided troubled times that everything was running oh so smooth

How many secrets are you keeping from me?
What kinda temptation could you not turn away?
Whose embrace have you imagined?
I examine our lives and then

I'm looking for trouble
I try, try to catch you out
If you show the slightest hesitation
I'm gonna play dumb

I recognise the signs
I check the bank balance
I listen to you breathe
My hell starts when your tolerance ends, your tolerance

Hold me close to you
Can you forgive my obsessions
Like in a whirlwind
We could have been carried away
Was it our solid ground
How many other victims did it take
This time we were ok but I will dread the next time

How many secrets are you keeping from me?
What kinda temptation could you not turn away?
Whose embrace have you imagined?
I examine our lives and then

Mon enfer commence là où finit ta tolérance
